QUESTIONS & ANSWERS

WILL RACING ANALYTICS EXPERT FORM AUTOMATICALLY PRICE UP A RACE?

Indeed, the "Racing Analytics - Expert Form" toolset does come with the built-in ability to automatically generate pricing for a race. This feature works with the base ability to switch between speed or class profiles, along with the unique Staffreaks rating, to deliver accurate and dependable race pricing.

The Expert mode takes things up a notch by offering additional configuration options. This lets you modify the intensity of the pricing computation, allowing for more aggressive or conservative approaches. You can also adjust the market percentage and compare your calculated price with the average fixed price in the current market to ascertain your advantage or "edge".

Once the race is assigned a price, it can then be seamlessly transitioned to the Racing Analytics analyzer for retroactive simulation testing. Over time, this feature enables you to verify and refine your approach to adjusting and rating races. It provides valuable feedback on whether your strategies lean towards excessive aggressiveness or excessive conservatism, ultimately helping you fine-tune your expertise with rating runners.

The data indicates that horses on a 4,5-day backup is the zone where the wins strike rate is the highest, with a slight edge on betfair with flat betting and commission already factored in. When we combine this with the Statfreaks AI data, if a horse has a rating of 6.1, it confirms that the AI also considering this 4 to 5-day rest period. The last image on the right shows the trainers in certain states who've had more than 20 horses race after just a 4 to 5-day rest since 2022, and how well they've performed.

QUESTIONS & ANSWERS

Which track's work well with your statfreaks predicted lead/settling position 1 and predicted 200m position 1 variables?

A review using the statfreaks AI data that predicts the race outcome before it happens, we notice several racecourses where we expect a horse to be in first place both when settling into the race and at the 200m point.

Moonee Valley being at the top of the list is not unexpected, given its sharp turns and short final stretch.

Statfreaks Team Additional Notes:

For horses that match the conditions at these racecourses, we strongly suggest doing more detailed race form research. It's especially important to be cautious with horses that might end up in a wide position on the track due to starting from a wide barrier, as they could use up too much energy at the start of the race.

JOCKEY/TRAINER REVIEW PROCESS

At the end of each month, we identify the top jockeys and trainers based on our detailed data analysis. These are individuals who have consistently demonstrated exceptional strike rate performance and contributed to profitable outcomes when ranked high on our statfreaks ratings. Instead of just acknowledging their performance for the previous month, we add them to our watchlist for the coming months. When a rider/trainer has dropped out of market performance for more than 3 months rolling, they are removed from the tracking table.

Every month, we'll revisit these top performers in a dedicated edition of our newsletter. We will re-analyze their performance during this period, looking at their wins, losses, and overall profitability using the Betfair Starting Price. This approach will help us understand the longer-term patterns and consistency of these high achievers, providing you with a more holistic view of their performance. We believe this system can provide an extra edge over the market.

The following sections will present the completed analysis for June 2023 and provide an update on the tracking table system.

LAY BETTING – BETFAIR

Welcome to lay betting, a unique betting strategy on Betfair. Unlike traditional betting where you bet on an outcome to happen, lay betting allows you to bet against an outcome.

In horse racing, when you lay a horse, you're betting it won't win. If any other horse wins, your bet wins. If the horse you laid wins, your bet loses. Essentially, you're acting as the bookmaker.

The odds in lay betting are reverse of traditional betting. For example, if you lay a horse at odds of 4.0 with a $10 stake, you'll win $10 if the horse loses. However, if the horse wins, you'll have to pay out $30. The liability (the amount you could lose) in lay betting can often be more than the amount you stand to win.

In essence, lay betting allows you to profit not only from picking winners, but also from picking losers. It's a valuable tool that, once mastered, can significantly broaden your betting strategy.
